

Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance

Get help paying for extended care

Long-term care insurance can help with the cost of extended care and give your family choices about how and where it's provided, which could even be at your own home.

Taking care of your loved ones today and in the future is important. It's why you create a financial strategy. And it's why that strategy should include how you would pay for long-term care.

Why should you address this now? Extended care can be very costly, and there's a good chance you'll need it: A person turning age 65 today has almost a 70% chance of needing some type of extended care services in his or her remaining years.¹

Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance can be an important part of your strategy.

A long-term care strategy is empowering

Having a strategy lets your family be involved in your care and help make choices about it—with you or on your behalf if you're unable to do so down the road. Your plan should reflect your wishes and your family's. To create a strategy, consider these questions:

- Where and how would you like care delivered, if you were to need it?
- What level of independence would you like to maintain?
- What role would you like your family to play in your care? If you want your family to take care of you, are they prepared to do so?
- How will you pay for long-term care?

Extended care can affect a family

Emotionally, as family members navigate the system to find the best care for you. At the same time, they're juggling their other responsibilities to you and their own families.

Physically, especially if they're your caregivers.

Financially, if care costs reduce the savings you've built. This may leave less for your spouse's living expenses or the legacy you hoped to leave your children.

Why long-term care insurance?

Long-term care refers to ongoing services and support needed when people can't care for themselves. Those extended care costs can be significant: In 2019, the average cost of skilled care at home was $137 per visit, the monthly rate at a residential care facility was $4,240, and a month stay in a nursing facility was $9,240.²

You may think government programs will pay for your care, but consider this:

- Medicare only pays for long-term care in specific circumstances
- Medicaid, also known as medical assistance, has certain restrictions, based on your income and assets

If you're thinking you will pay for long-term care, ask yourself:

- Will you have to dip into your retirement savings?
- Will your spouse be able to afford to pay for your care?
- Will you be able to pass assets on to your children or grandchildren, or to a charity?
- Have you considered the tax consequences of liquidating investments?

With Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance, you have a number of benefits, including choices where you can receive care, equipment and home modifications, and respite care.

Care coordination

The care coordination benefit included with Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance allows a licensed health care coordinator to:

- Assist in developing, implementing and coordinating a formal plan of care
- Help identify local care providers and resources and their associated costs
- Monitor your ongoing care needs

By letting a care coordinator focus on the business details, you and those you care about can focus on being a family.

Checklist of Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance benefit options¹

You can use this Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance benefits checklist to make notes and track the choices you and your financial professional have determined will best match your needs. Your premium will vary depending on the benefits you select.

Maximum monthly benefit

This is the maximum monthly amount of insurance benefits you will be eligible to receive each month.

Choose from $1,500 to $15,000 in $100 increments.

$ _____ (enter amount)

Benefit multiplier

This is a factor, based on months of benefits, that is used to calculate your available benefit.

- 24 (2 years) 48 (4 years) 96 (8 years)
 36 (3 years) 60 (5 years)

_____ x _____ = _____

Maximum monthly benefit x benefit multiplier = total available benefit

Your “total available benefit” is the total pool of money available during your lifetime to pay for long-term care expenses. By focusing on a pool of money rather than a period of time, you know the exact dollar amount available to you.

Elimination period

This is the period during which you begin to receive qualified care services before your insurance pays benefits. You only need to satisfy the elimination period once. One day of qualified care service in a calendar week receives credit for the full week.

- 30 days 90 days 180 days

Premium payment options

- Lifetime
 10-Pay (Payments are made over 10 years. This option is not available with the Flexible Increase Benefit Rider or Survivorship Benefit Rider.)

Premium waiver

As part of your long-term care insurance contract, once you begin receiving qualified long-term care services and after you satisfy the elimination period, your premiums are waived. If you recover, premiums will resume.

Contingent Nonforfeiture Benefit

With this included benefit, if you decide to no longer pay your premiums because of a substantial premium increase, your coverage will continue as paid-up coverage with reduced benefit maximums.

Take advantage of premium discounts.

Preferred health discount

- + If you're in good health, you may receive a premium discount of 10% off standard rates

Couples discount

Your premium may be reduced:

- + By 20%, if both of you apply for and are approved for coverage—or one of you already has Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance
- + By 5%, if both of you apply for coverage and only one is approved—or if only one of you applies for coverage

Optional benefits— available for an additional cost

The following optional benefits, called riders, allow you to customize your Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance coverage to meet your unique needs. They're available for an additional cost. Check the items that you'd like to learn more about.

○ Cash Benefit Rider

This provides a separate benefit to use in any way you choose, regardless of whether you're receiving home care or facility care. It's available in amounts equal to either:

- 15% of your maximum monthly benefit while receiving home care services
- 10% of your maximum monthly benefit while receiving facility care

You must meet the elimination period and receive at least five days of care per calendar month to be eligible to receive this benefit. In certain circumstances, this benefit may be taxable.

○ Waiver of Elimination Period for Home Care and Community-Based Care Rider

This waives the elimination period when you are receiving home care or are in adult day care. The number of days you receive care will help you satisfy the elimination period for other types of care that may be needed. (Not available with 180-day elimination period.)

○ Survivorship Benefit Rider

If one of you dies after your contracts have been in force for at least 10 years and neither of you had been chronically ill during those 10 years, the survivor will no longer have to pay premiums for his or her Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance. (Not available with the 10-Pay premium option or Flexible Increase Benefit Rider.)

○ Return of Premium Upon Death Rider

If you die after your contract has been in force at least 10 years, your estate will be paid a lump-sum amount, equal to paid premiums less benefits paid and accumulated dividends paid upon death. (Not available with the Shared Care Benefit Rider.)

○ Nonforfeiture Benefit Rider

If you choose to terminate your contract for any reason and are no longer paying premiums, benefits will continue as paid-up insurance with reduced benefit maximums, provided the contract has been in force for at least three years.

○ Shared Care Benefit Rider

This allows couples with identical Thrivent Long-Term Care Insurance contracts to share long-term care benefits. If, for example, you exhaust all of your benefits, yet need additional care, you may access your partner's remaining available benefits. If you use 100% of your partner's benefits, an additional 24-month benefit can be purchased for your partner's use—without additional underwriting—through age 85 as long as your partner has not had any days credited toward the elimination period and has not been chronically ill within the last two years.

A joint waiver of premium benefit is included with the Shared Care Benefit Rider. This means that even if only one of you is receiving benefits, premiums are waived for both contracts.

○ Annual Increase Benefit

Each year, your maximum monthly benefit and available benefit will automatically increase. You may choose from:

- 1% compounded
- 2% compounded
- 3% compounded
- 5% compounded
- None

The cost of future annual benefit increases is built into your premium and won't cause your premium to increase each year.

Annual Increase Benefit

This is a hypothetical example.

○ Flexible Increase Benefit

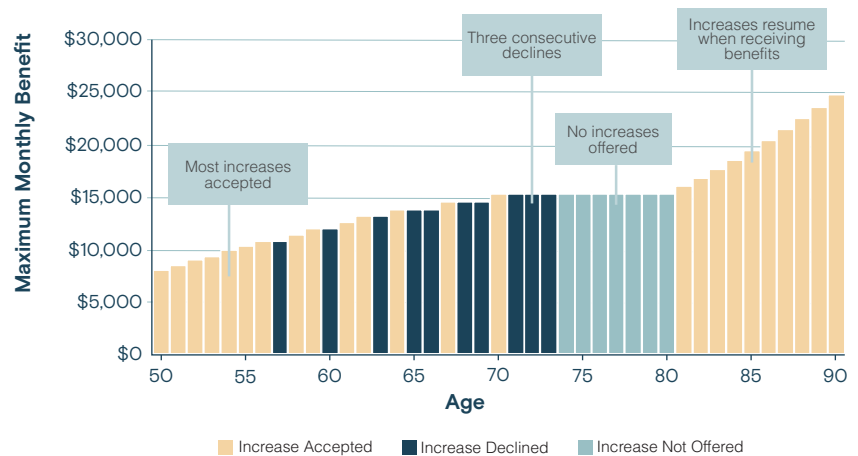

This allows your maximum monthly benefit and your available benefit to automatically increase by 5% compounded annually.

- Your premium will increase with each option elected.
- Each year you'll have the opportunity to decline the increase offer.
- If you refuse an increase offer, your coverage and premium will remain the same as the prior year. Increase offers will resume the next year.
- After three consecutive increase offers are refused, no further increases will be offered.
- Once you begin receiving benefits, coverage increases will resume, even if previous offers were refused.

(Not available with the 10-Pay premium option or Survivorship Benefit Rider.)

Flexible Increase Benefit

This is a hypothetical example.
